

YOU

A                          A                  A
You're so kissable, irresistible, it's impermissible

D    D
For me to even dream, come up with a scheme

A
A cabin by a stream

D    D                          A
I don't have the blues, what I have is you

A                          A                          A
You're so kissable, hit-or-missable, you're so wishable

D    D
I wish on every star, doesn't get me far

In this pickle jar

D    D                          A
I don't have the blues, what I have is you

A A D A

A                          A    A
You're so kissable, it's more than visible, it's inadmissible

D    D
For me to even say, words get in the way

A
Make our lips turn gray

D    D                          A
I don't have the blues, what I have is you
